CULTURAL ARTS SOCIETY OF WEST JORDAN

WELCOME

A guide to looking, sounding, and feeling like CASWJ.

This document is the source of truth for the Cultural Arts Society of West Jordan's visual identity. It captures the logos, colors, type, and voice that make our work recognizable — and gives our affiliates, volunteers, and partners a clear path to use them well.

CASWJ is a work of love — many volunteers across a Board of Directors and dozens of committees, all working to promote a rich cultural life in West Jordan.

Our identity should feel the same way our programs do: warm, expressive, and rooted in community. The marks and colors in this guide were built to flex across a concert poster, a youth-theatre playbill, a literary newsletter, and a gallery wall without losing the thread that ties them together.

If you're producing anything that represents CASWJ — a flyer for an affiliated organization, a social post, a sponsor deck, a sign at an event — start here.

01 · LOGO SYSTEM

Two marks, one identity.

The CASWJ identity is built on a primary wordmark and a supporting flame badge. The wordmark carries our full name; the badge stands in for it when space is tight or a circular form is required.

Primary wordmark

CULTURAL ARTS SOCIETY OF WEST JORDAN

Used everywhere the brand has room to breathe: documents, websites, signage, and event collateral. Always paired with our full organizational name.

Flame badge

Our identity at the smallest scale: avatars, app icons, favicons, sponsor walls, and any context where the wordmark would be illegible.

FILE NAMING

The _tight wordmark variants have minimal whitespace and are intended for precise vertical alignment with other elements. For most general use, prefer the standard (non-tight) versions — they include built-in margin that already satisfies our clear-space rule.

01.02 · PRIMARY WORDMARK

The wordmark.

Two stacked lines — CULTURAL ARTS SOCIETY over WEST OF JORDAN — bound by horizontal rules that turn the typography into a unified mark. The vertical "OF" between WEST and JORDAN is a hallmark detail; never substitute or remove it.

CULTURAL ARTS SOCIETY
WEST OF JORDAN

ASPECT RATIO

3.83 : 1

Lock the proportions when scaling. Never stretch.

CONSTRUCTION

Custom Helvetica

Drawn in Helvetica Bold with custom kerning and the vertical "OF" ligature.

FORMAT

SVG (vector)

Always prefer the SVG; export PNG only when SVG is not supported.

Standard vs. tight

STANDARD — WITH BUILT-IN MARGIN (RECOMMENDED)

ViewBox: 798.26 × 208.38. Use this in 95% of cases — the surrounding whitespace already satisfies the clear-space rule on page 7.

TIGHT — MINIMAL WHITESPACE

ViewBox: 768.49 × 178.61. Use when you need pixel-precise vertical or horizontal alignment with adjacent elements (e.g., a hero band, a header row). You are responsible for adding clear space manually.

01.03 · FLAME BADGE

The flame badge.

A circular mark — gold ring, navy field, a multi-color flame at the center — for places the wordmark can't fit or won't read. Treat it as our avatar, not as a replacement for the wordmark.

What it represents

A flame for the spark of creative expression — visual, performing, and literary arts twisting together — held in a coin-like badge that reads clearly even when scaled down to a 32 × 32 favicon. The colors progress from cool teal at the base through warm gold and into pink at the tip, echoing the full brand palette in a single mark.

Use the flame badge for…

Social profile photos
Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, YouTube avatars (≥ 400 × 400 px).

App & device icons
iOS / Android / desktop app icons and PWA install tiles.

Browser tab favicon
Export as 16, 32, 48 px PNG / ICO and Apple touch icon.

Watermark & seal
Corner mark on photos, program-book seal, presentation footer.

MINIMUM SIZE FOR THE FLAME BADGE

24 px digital · 0.30 in print

Below this, the gold ring blurs and the flame loses its individual ribbons. When you'd need it smaller, use a solid-color silhouette of the flame against the navy field instead — or just use the wordmark.

01.04 · CLEAR SPACE & MINIMUM SIZES

Give the logo room.

Both marks need a buffer of empty space — no other type, photography, or graphic elements should encroach. This protects legibility and signals craft.

Wordmark clear space — 1× cap-height on all sides

The minimum clear space equals 1× the cap-height of the lowest text line in the wordmark (labeled X). The standard (non-tight) SVG already includes this margin in its viewBox — you get it for free if you don't crop. With the tight variant, add the buffer yourself.

Wordmark minimum sizes

|---|---|
| PRINT | 1.00 in wide |
| DIGITAL | 120 px wide |

Flame badge minimum sizes

|---|---|
| PRINT | 0.30 in diameter |
| DIGITAL | 24 px diameter |

01.05 · COLOR & BACKGROUND

When to use which color logo.

Choose the variant that reads cleanly against the background and matches the formality of the context.

By logo color

NAVY — PRIMARY

Default for everything: light backgrounds, white paper, sponsor decks, letterhead, and any general-purpose use. Use this unless there's a specific reason not to.

BLACK — SINGLE-INK

Reserved for one-color printing (newsprint, programs, ads, fax, photocopy) and embossed/engraved applications where color isn't available. Don't substitute for navy on screen.

WHITE — REVERSE

For navy, dark photography, gradient ribbons, and any dark surface where navy or black would disappear. Required on the signature gradient.

LIGHT PHOTO / TEXTURE

Photography: on a busy photo, place a navy or white solid panel behind the wordmark, or shift the logo to a quiet zone in the image. Never set the logo across a busy region of an image.

01.06 · LOGO MISUSE

Don't do these.

These treatments break the mark — they affect legibility, undermine our brand consistency, or simply look wrong. When in doubt, use the wordmark unmodified on a clean field of brand color.

Don't distort
Never stretch, squash, or skew the wordmark. Scale proportionally.

Don't recolor
Use only the approved navy, black, or white variants.

Don't add effects
No drop shadows, bevels, glows, gradients, or outlines.

Don't rotate
The wordmark sits horizontally. Never tilt or set it vertically.

Don't lose contrast
Avoid navy logo on dark backgrounds. Switch to the white variant.

Don't crowd
Respect the clear-space rule (page 7). Nothing inside the buffer.

Don't place over busy areas
Use the white wordmark — or move the logo to a quieter zone.

Don't re-typeset the name
Always use the official SVG file. Never recreate the wordmark in another font.

Don't lock the marks together
The badge and wordmark are not a single combination mark. Use one or the other.

02.07 · COLOR PALETTE

Our six colors.

Navy is our anchor. Gold gives the brand its quiet warmth. Pink and teal carry the energy of the programs themselves. Black and white do the heavy lifting on text and surfaces.

02.08 · COLOR PROPORTIONS & PAIRING

How the palette works together.

Use color in roughly the ratios below. The system gets its character from a strong navy + neutral base, with pink, teal, and gold as energetic accents — never the other way around.

Recommended distribution

White (or cream) carries body text, breathable layout, and photo mats. Navy carries headlines, the wordmark, and structural panels. Gold cues attention — eyebrows, callouts, small accents. Pink and teal show up in service of energy: highlights, hover states, season-specific accents.

Pairings that work

The signature gradient ribbon

Our signature gradient is a soft blend of pink, orange, deep teal, sea green, and lime. Use the full image as a background, or crop a thin band from it for lines, rules, and accents. It may be applied with transparency. Always pair it with the white wordmark and use it sparingly so it remains a feature, not a default.

02.09 · TYPOGRAPHY

Two typefaces. One voice.

A no-nonsense Helvetica for the things we want to feel structural and authoritative. A warmer Avenir Next for the words people actually read.

HEADINGS · DISPLAY

Helvetica Neue

The five boxing wizards jump quickly to the West Jordan stage.

| Aa | Aa | Aa | Aa |
|---|---|---|---|
| MEDIUM 500 | BOLD 700 | BOLD ITALIC | REGULAR 400 |

BODY · TEXT

Avenir Next

Tickets, programs, sponsor packets, board agendas, and donor letters — all read in the same humanist sans-serif.

| Aa | Aa | Aa | Aa |
|---|---|---|---|
| LIGHT 300 | REGULAR 400 | MEDIUM 500 | BOLD 700 |

WHEN YOU CAN'T USE THEM

Arial · Helvetica

For headings, fall back to Arial Bold. For body, fall back to Source Sans 3 or Nunito Sans. Use these only when the licensed faces are genuinely unavailable (e.g., legacy email clients, school district templates).

TRACKING & LINE-HEIGHT

-2% headings · 150% body

Set headings tight (negative tracking, ~110% leading). Set body open (default tracking, 145–160% leading). Use ALL CAPS only for eyebrows and short labels; add +12% letter-spacing when you do.

02.10 · TYPE IN USE

Type hierarchy.

A consistent rhythm of eyebrow, headline, lead, and body across everything we produce. Use this as your starting template for any new layout.

Color rules for type

Headlines: navy on light surfaces, white on navy or photographs. Avoid pink, teal, or gold for headlines — they're accent colors.

Eyebrows: pink, teal, or gold to add energy. Match the eyebrow color to the section accent.

Body: navy on light, white at ≥ 85% opacity on dark. Never light gray on white — accessibility.

Links & CTAs: teal underlined in body copy; navy buttons with white text for primary actions.

03.11 · PHOTOGRAPHY & IMAGERY

Real people, real moments.

CASWJ photography captures actual community members participating in actual programs. Skip stock imagery whenever possible — our value is the local, the specific, the joyful.

Subject matter — what we shoot

Performance moments — orchestra, theatre, band — with stage lighting that's already on-palette.

Volunteers, artists, and audiences engaging in the work — rehearsing, painting, reading, building.

Outdoor festivals, gallery openings, market stalls — bright, open, with West Jordan landscape cues when possible.

Instruments, scripts, brushes, paint — close, tactile, supporting hero photography.

Tone & treatment

Color: Lean into warm, saturated lighting. Stage photography with magenta and gold gels reads as authentically CASWJ — that palette already lives in our brand.

Crops: Get close. Half-figure and detail crops over wide audience shots when you have the choice.

People: Real expressions over posed smiles. Mid-action over standing-still.

Releases: Get a signed photo release for any identifiable subject — especially minors. Keep them on file with the program lead.

Avoid

- × Generic stock photography of "people clapping" or "diverse hands."
- × Heavy filters, vintage washes, or any treatment that signals a single trend.
- × Low-resolution photos — minimum 1500px on the long edge for web, 300 DPI for print.
- × AI-generated images of people. Use illustration if a real photo isn't available.

03.12 · VOICE & MESSAGING

How we sound.

Warm, plainspoken, and specific. We talk about the arts the way our volunteers do — proudly, but without performance. We use "you" when speaking to a community member, and "we" when speaking as the organization.

WARM

"We're glad you're here."

We greet people. Even our donation page sounds like a conversation, not a transaction.

SPECIFIC

"Eight affiliates, one mission."

We use real numbers, real names, and real outcomes. Vague never moves a donor.

INCLUSIVE

"Across generations."

Our programs span every age — and so does our language. Avoid jargon that assumes formal arts training.

Voice in practice

DO

"Thanks for being here tonight. The Sugar Factory Playhouse is one of eight affiliated programs CASWJ supports — every ticket helps the next show happen."

DON'T

"The Cultural Arts Society of West Jordan, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, leverages programmatic partnerships to deliver high-impact arts experiences to our community stakeholders."

DO

"Auditions for Beauty and the Beast Jr. are open to anyone in grades 4–8. No previous theatre experience required — show up Saturday at 10 AM."

DON'T

"West Jordan Youth Theatre is now accepting submissions for its upcoming production. Interested parties should review eligibility criteria prior to attending."

DO

"Your $25 gift covers one student's music stand, sheet music, and concert ticket. Forty gifts cover an entire youth ensemble for a season."

DON'T

"Please consider making a tax-deductible contribution to support our ongoing mission and operational needs."

Naming conventions: Always "Cultural Arts Society of West Jordan" on first reference. After that, "CASWJ" is fine. The wordmark itself uses "Cultural Arts Society of West Jordan" — keep the lowercase "of" in body copy when stylized, and capitalize it normally in sentences.
